Boston, and Messrs. Rich & Harris, the pro-

Dixey's first week in San Francisco is said

The mention of "receipts," so frequently

RRANGEMENT have been made by Manager Frohman and his ornamental star. Ed Sothern, to give 'The Highest Bid-

An addition to the many games known distinctively as "progressive," and which fol-lowed the inauguration of "progressive euchre," is the game of "progressive tennis," der" for a short midwhich is to be one of the holiday novelties summer engagement in this toy stores this season. The device is in London. Although an ingenious one, and although in some of the authors of the its general features it somewhat resembles play, Messrs. Morton progressive baseball," which was one of and Reece, are Enthe novelties last year, it is said to be much glish, "The Highest more interesting and exciting in detail, espe-Bidder" has not been more interesting and exciting in detail, espe-cially to tennis players. The cards used are ordinary playing cards. They are for match-ing purposes alone, however, the various cards having such inscriptions as "Fault," "Net Volley," "I return it with a back-hand twist," and many others, which include all the possible plays in an actual game of tennis. presented abroad from the fact that it was owned exclusively by the Sotherns, who are said to have paid to the authors £1,000. Mr. Sothern has been extremely successful in mother, joins the company at Utica.

PLAYING TENNIS WITH CARDS.

A New and Interesting Game Added to the "Progressive" Series.

The game may be played by any number of players, but in pairs, as in tennis, the most fun being obtained in a tournament in which a large number of players take part, in which case two packs are used at each table of four, one for the servers and the other for the reprietors of the Hollis Street Theatre, who were in this city yesterday, declared that the were in this city yesterday, declared that the receipts for the last week were $9,000, and those of Saturday matinée and evening performances over $2,500. Sothern is said to be extremely happy, as he has the best territory in his tour yet to cover. Offers have been made to him by several popular theatres in this city, but he will not play here again until he returns to the Lyceum in May. ceivers The courts are as in the regular game, advancing from "Love all" to Deuce."

The rules of the game are somewhat compli-

The rules of the game are somewhat complicated, but a general idea of its principles may be given without quoting the rules. In the cut for deal all cards above a certain point are called "rough," and all below "even," which is similar to spinning the racket in the real game. The one who wins may either "serve" or "receive," and as a tip to readers who may play the game it may be said that the advantage lies with the server. Dixey's first week in San Francisco is said to have reached $11,000. A telegram received yesterday said that the second week's business promised to be nearly as satisfactory. It is stated that Mr. Dixey will devote his entire season next year to the Bijou Opera-House, where he intends opening with his new burlesque of Irving's "Faust." Another burlesque on this theme now preparing to be done in Philadelphia by a young actor named Al Phillips may, however, be produced in New York before Dixey's version, should it prosper in the Quaker City.

be said that the advantage lies with the server.

After the deal, a certain number of cards are discarded by each side, and the server—a lady being always first, as in tennis—leads a card, which the receiver tries to match or return. If he is successful, he plays a card, and the game goes on until a "fault" is made either by a player failing to match his opponent's card or by turning up a card upon which is printed the word "fault."

There are also other occasions when a fault may be made, which have no parallel in the regular game. The element of chance in the regular game. The element of chance in the game is sufficient to arouse a lively inter-est. Dainty souvenirs, such as are used in est. Dainty souvenirs, such as are used in other progressive games and the German, make suitable prizes. Booby prizes are also

SOMETHING VERY LINGERING.

The mention of "receipts," so frequently made by managers is interesting merely because it gives some very faint idea of the business done. Every one knows that no one can "get at" the mysteries of the box office except the cashier and the chief theatrical authority. They alone know the actual state of things, and the manager is gifted with strange powers of exaggeration. Perhaps there is no feature of theatrical business so systematically lied about as the "receipts." But the statements must always be taken, cans grano salis. An Inquest to Decide Whether Irving Hull is Dend or Merely Comatose.

Irving Hall is still in the throes of dissolution. Several of the leaders want the funeral to take place immediately, while others wish to keep the Irving Hall flag flying. The twenty-four leaders will hold a meeting in a few days to decide whether Irving Hall

"Forget-Me-Not." which was produced at Wallack's last night, is not a novelty by any means, but its strength and many merits will always make it acceptable to a metropolitan audience when it is presented by so excellent a company as that selected by Henry E. Abbey. "Forget-Me-Not" was particularly interesting last night, because Miss Rose Coghlan appeared as the ubiquitous Stephanie. The part has been made familiar by Miss Genevieve Ward. As, however, Stephanie is supposed to be an extremely fascinating woman. Miss Ward was seen to great disadvantage. Like Lady Jane, she is not beautiful, but massive, Miss Coghlan was admirable in the first two acts of "Forget-me-not." before she had to depict anguish and fear. In the last act she was not natural. shall be kept in existence for the Presidential battle.
The Twenty-third District machine has one to pieces and its members are thinking of organizing as guerillas. There is chivalry among the Irving Hallites in the Eighth District. Oscar H. Bogart is the district boss and his motto is, "Without fear—of Tammany Hall—and without' represed—of an approach for an indorsement." was admirable in the first two acts of "Forget-me-not," before she had to depict anguish and fear. In the last act she was not natural. Her shrink is painful, and her hoarse whisper was so melodramatic that it was suggestive of the "Unhand-me-villain" and "Foiled-again" style. This scene was greatly overdone, as was Stephanie's exit from the Verneys' house before the fall of the curtain. Miss Coghlan took two minutes getting off the stage for the sake of some misplaced effect, when her speedy exit was supposed to be a matter of life and death to her. Miss Netta Guion was extremely doleful as AliceTverney—in fact painfully doleful. She could not forget that she had to be pathetic. If she had asked Stephanie to pass her the salt at table, she would have done it in a voice choked with tears. Why such superfluous pathos, Miss Netta Guion? Mme. Ponisi was a good Mrs. Foley, J. W. Pigott a picturesque Barrato, Harry Edwards a Prince Malleotti who at times forgot to speak with an accent, and Osmond Tearle an extremely effective Sir Horace Welby.

Ex-Excise Commissioner Nicholas Haughton says he wants to retire from politics, but it is believed that he can be persuaded to continue as one of the big bosses. Ex-President of the Board of Aldermen Robert B. Nooney is in favor of keeping up an organization. Mr. Henry Campbell, of the Fourth District, says he will remain in Irving Hall if a majority of the district leaders vote to stand by the colors.

The annual rent of Irving Hall is $1,800. Where so much money is to come from with no patronage is a question that is puzzling the leaders.

Aqueduct Commissioner Ridgway, City Court Judge Ehrlich, ex-Senator Cornell, ex-Assemblyman Peter F. Murray and Henry Steinert, who jumped Irving Hall just previous to the election, are preparing to leap into Tammany Hall. Ex-Excise Commissioner Nicholas Haugh-

The energetic and scintillating Mr. John F. Donnelly is organizing a series of popular concerts to take place at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, beginning next Sunday. Among the artists announced are Hafry Pepper, Arthur Herald, who is said to be a London favorite and a brother-in-law of Barton McGuckin, though why that fact should be interesting is not made clear. thermometer on the long saw. A steel stirrup, attached to a broad gilt strap, on which is a thermometer.

A large key, in brass or silver, engraved the thermometer being placed on the shank. Miss Sopie Eyre, the well-known former leading lady of Wallack's, has now secured the lease of a London theatre. In the English metropolis syndicates appoint female managers in the same manner that men are put in charge of the position here. A racket in brass and silver on which is a ball, the thermometer being placed on the

An oxidized silver ice tongs between two hatchets holds a piece of glass resembling ice, and on it is a thermometer. Half open umbrellas and fans in brass and oxidized silver, engraved, are also used as a background for these very useful articles. This was heard at the Metropolitan Opera-House Wednesday night:

He—What extremely pretty gloves those are you wear, Miss S. Are they something new?

She—Oh, no. They are made of undressed

To Herr Most. Herr Most,
It doesn't pay to boast;
Nor to picture with delight,
What you'll do with dynamite,
Herr Most!
My advice you'd better hear:
Go back to cheese and beer,
And sauers raut-on-toast,
Herr Most!

SECRETS OF TE BOX OFFICE. to please Canadian audiences. Mr. Knight has been playing to very large receipts (they are not stated, thank goodness) and is already figuring to return to Montreal to play another week's engagement there. SPORTS OF TRACK AND RING.

PRETTY SPARRING AT THE BENEFIT TO The New York English Ballad Company will sing in Utica on Friday night and in Rome on Saturday night. Miss Isabel Stone, the soprano of the company, who has been absent in Boston attending the funeral of her CHAMPION CARNEY.

the Olympic and Manhattan Elevens to Play Football on Saturday-Athletic Games of the Seventh Regiment-A Six-Day Walk-Match for Madison Square Garden Next February-The Midget's Challenge

HE benefit to Jem Carney at the boxing rooms on Broadway and Thirtieth street last night was one any man might be proud of. It was the best conducted testimonial ever gotten up, and the club men present in dress suits were delighted with the exhibitions given by Files and La Blanche, and Carney and Mitchell. Carney was a little off with a frightful cold.

but Mitchell, who went back to Philadelphia by the midnight train and went to work at the Baldwin Locomotive Works this morning, was in great shape. Any one who saw the setto and didn't know the men and their records would almost have wanted to back the Philadelphian. Sparring is one game and fighting is another. Carney never once let Mitchell land on his jaw in the forty-four minutes they fought last sum-mer as he did in the four rounds of friendly sparring last night.

The Olympic and Manhattan football elevens will play a match on the Manhattan grounds at 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

The twelfth annual games of the Seventh ric twenth annual games of the Seventh Regiment Athletic Association on Saturday evening promise to be the best on record. If any one doubts the interest taken in amateur and military athletics, he should go into the Park avenue and Sixty-sixth street armory while the sports are going on.

"They say" that the 120-pound amateur boxing competition of the Spartan Harriers on Saturday evening will be held in the Man-hattan Athletic Club's Fifth avenue house.

hattan Athletic Club's Fifth avenue house.

Frank Hall, the manager of the late sixday race in Philadelphia, intends to give a big six-day walk in Madison Square Garden, commencing Feb. 5. Among the contestants in this final race in the old ampitheatre will be Rowell, Hughes and Littlewood. Mr. Hall says that on account of the dissatisfaction over the financial part of the last race a single man, representing all of the contestants, will be allowed in the box-office. Littlewood was only off the track sixteen hours during the first five days of the Philadelphia struggle, but ran forty-five miles and took struggle, but ran forty-five miles and took eleven hours off on the sixth day. He can the two last miles in eleven and one-half minutes, and could have made a record of 650 miles but for prudential reasons.

Why do not some of the New York bantam weight pugilists pick up the challenge of Sam Cohen, the South Boston midget?

Harry Bethune, the celebrated sprinter, did a yard and a half better than 9%s. in Philadelphia last week. This was done on a Philadelphia last week. This was done on a full 100-yard course and was accurately timed. Bethune, with Frank Hearld, the puglist, who discovered the sprinter's abilities when he saw him run in a lacrosse game near Germantown some years ago, will go to England in the spring and will run in the Sheffield Handicap. Bethune is one of the fastest sprinters in the country and has proven himself a money maker.

"Philly " Lynch, Charley Johnson and Geo, Engeman and Jimmy Wakely sail for England on Saturday by the Cunard steamer to see the Kilrain-Smith fight.

The backer of Jake Kilrain is said to have offered $1,000 to Alderman Bill Dunne, of Brooklyn, for the second time to go over and second the American in the coming battle.

Bergen, the jockey, who has been doing such good riding at Clifton of late, bids fair to be in with the leaders next season.

Didn't Want His Life Insured.

His Victim—I shan't need it. I am sure of a good income in my old age. My business assures it! Insurance Agent—Why, what do you do?

His Victim—I am a magazine writer. I am not paid for my articles until after their publication. My old age is all fixed. What I want is a present income.

Cat-Like.

[From Judge.]
Mrs. Den Suade—How perfectly lovely your dia monds are, Mrs. Lately.

Mrs. Lately-I'm so glad you like them; Mr. Lately gave them to me for a birthday present.

Mrs. Den Suade—He has excellent taste, I'm sure; those cunning hitle tlay stones are so well in accord with your spirituelle style of beauty, you know.

The Same Result.

Mesers, Riber & Son;
I have used your Sarsapanilla so successfully, and have induced so many here to try it with the same result, that I am now going to send some to a friend in Massachusetta. Flease send three bottles to inclosed address. Please send me three bottles to make the result here who have nover tried it. I inclose four dollars.

Mrs. A. B. Buelle.

Mrs. A. B. Buelle.

Nong Sing, N. Y. **

QUEER LAPSES OF THE MIND.

sults in the enrichment of others, while it does not impoverish the person by whom the article is left, for he who has no mind to feel the pangs of poverty can never be poor.

One of the best places to observe the absent-minded man is in a restaurant. A keeper of a popular downtown "eatery" said the my customers? Well, I should say I did. Look at this, and this-and this." And he brought to view successively, in recesses behind his desk, a lot of umbrellas, another lot of canes and a lot of bundles and packages.

The umbrellas were of all classes and conditions, from the faded colton, bulged-bodied and crocked-handled of the Jersey farmer, to the aristocratic silk shade with its fancifully designed handle of silver or gold. The covers were equally distinctive of the character and class of their owners who had left them.

covers were equally distinctive of the character and class of their owners who had left them.

"I don't know what are in the packages.
I never open them," said the man behind the desk. "Let's see what this fellow left."
Open came a dust-covered, newspaperwrapped bundle, and out rolled a waistcoat, the buttonless and frayed condition of which suggested repairs.

"I suppose the contents of all the packages are of equal value with that," continued the voluble lunchman. "When I get so lumbered up with old umbrellas, canes and things that they are a burden, and that's every two or three months, I have 'em dumped into the ash-barrel. Some of the commonest things for customers to leave in winter are gloves, silk handkerchiefs, nufflers and bonbons. I have had a lot of patent velvet ear muffs on hand at times.

mufflers and bonbons. I have had a lot of patent velvet ear muffs on hand at times. Another common thing is for a guest to leave his pocket handkerchief. A great many fine linen bandkerchiefs accumulate. They never are claimed.

"Sometimes articles of value are left," the man went on, "but they are generally reclaimed. For instance, here is a $20 bill, which was left by a gentleman about two weeks ago. He was counting out a large sum of money on the table, and, in gathering it up, he left this bill in plain sight. I am keeping it to surprise him with a present when he comes again. But the most amusing case of absent-mindedness which I have encountered is one of my customers who orders his lunch, and, after sitting over it for a little while, picks up his check, strolls encountered is one of my customers who orders his lunch, and, after sitting over it for a little while, picks up his check, strolls abstractedly up to the desk and pays for food that he has never had. When his attention is called to the fact that he hasn't eaten anything, he laughs heartily, returns to the table and satisfies his appetite, which before had been unable to bring him out of dreamland to the stern reality of living. This customer has done this frequently. He's a good, paying boarder. There are others who walk by the cashier's desk and into the street without paying, but these cases are frequently found not to be of abstraction, save in the sense that abstraction which is taking another's goods without making a return in equivalent for them."

Absent mindedness is not peculiar to res-

for them."

Absent mindedness is not peculiar to restaurant patrons alone. Waiters are likewise affected, but there is a sovereign remedy for this affliction in waiters and that is the "tip."

ALL WANT THE CONVENTION HERE. Tammany, the County Democracy, Alderme

and Hotel Men of One Mind. Tammany Hall wants the National Democratic Convention to be held in this city. A special committee has been appointed to interview members of the National Committee. The County Democracy will probably the 1888 convention.

The proprietors of Coney Island hotels, it is stated, are thinking of building a wigwam on that strand if the committee should decide to hold the convention down there.

"The World's" Dollar Dinner for Four.

Contributed Daily to Cream of Celery. THE WORLD by One of the Best Known City Chefs. ROAST. Pork. Apple Sauce. Browned Mashed Potato At to-day's market DESSERT.

prices the material for this dinner can be Mince Pie. Crullers. Cheese. Coffee purchased for $1.

To one and all we say use ADAMSON'S BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM, Best druggists.

THE WESTERN GRETNA GREEN.

Jeffersonville, Ind., is Famous for the Many

[From the Indianapolis News,] Jeffersonville is the Green of the West, for example, it has created the matrim hal ranner, a shrewd, discerning young man, generally, who knows the candidates for we slock by sight, just as a reporter knows a good bit of news. The M. R. is opposed to violent exertion, and consequently prefers to soend his time at the landing of the ferry which connects the blasful shore of Jeffersonville with Louisville.

When he sees a shyly happy couple come up the river bank, or spless a hired bark with two passengers, he generally succeeds in insinuating himself and lenders his services. He procures a license, swears to the age of the parties, or gets some idler to do it, and lands the couple in the 'squire's office, who divides the fees with him. It may not be a very remunerative nor useful occupation, but it has the elements of picturesqueness and unconventionality.

There must have been at one time and another a respectable amount of hypothetical swearing done, in order to assure the County Clerk as to the age of applicants for license, and sometimes an inturated parent arrives here just too late to ston the ceremony, breathes destruction and law, then simmers down, accepts the inevitable, and tails to prosecute the bold, had man who presumed to know the age of a daughter better than her parental progenitor.

It is not easy to stop an eloping marriage. People here are generally in sympathy with the smitten hearts, and even our police confess to somewhat of a tenderness. Nor can elopists be arrested and held just because they have eloped. It ple here are generally in sympathy with the smitten hearts, and even our police confess to somewhat of a tenderness. Nor can elopists be arrested and neld just because they have eloped. It is no crime. A prominent Kentuckian, whose daughter had been spuilted away by an enterprising lover, found that out a few days acd. He telegraphed from Bardstown to arrest the couple, the County Clerk was warned, and everything cocked and primed to blow up the anticipated marriage, but not the young couple would not be held, and they quietly slipped to New Albany and were married.

There is plenty of romance in the business, and a novelist could probably not do better than visit deflerations and study the esca ades of these lovers. They come at all hours of day and night, in all sorts of conveyances or on foot, and have all sorts of conveyances or on foot, and have all sorts of adventures.

Sometimes the suriy Kentucky maiden goes to singing school or to church, deluding the vigniant father into security, while her swain has horses or bugy ready to drive to the nearest railway station or straight through to the martial Meeca. Again, as in the case of Nimrod Cono, of Boston, Ky., a few days ago, the bride escapes at midninght, with all the accompaniments of ladders, lantern and danger, In some cases the fugitives are hotly pursued, but rarely overtaken before the knot is tied, when the objecting parents invariably cool down and accept the situation, and the groom, after more vigorous but unavailing kicking, for no matter how easily the Indiana nuptial Knot is tied, it don't untile quite so eacily.

One of the most exciting experiences, probably, harm-nonse, being delayed there several days, when at last they reached Jeffersonwille the step-father and aunt persuaded the groom and bride to obtain a heense, which was duly transferred to the proper parties and the wedding celebrated by Justice Kelgwin. This is only one of many tricks resorted to to obtain the necessary legal papers, and goes to show the ingenuity of invention where love is concerned. Love laughs at law or any other locksmith. Why, I have known youth and maiden to walk fifty miles to be married here, nor had they a penny for expenses or lees, and a collection had to be taken among the county officials to raise the money to send them home on the ing a clipping).

EDISON'S GREATEST.

What the Wizard of Menlo Park Has Done for the World and Wherein His Greatest Achievement Lies.

ered so many things that contribute to the progress of civilization as Thomas A. Edison. The number is legion and their value inestimable. But out of the entire list the who can believe physical suffering, who can lighten pain, confers a greater blessing on the world than the one who simply adds to the world's wealth. That is just paper and its immense popularity is due wholly to its absolute merit. It is sold by all druggists and dealers at $1 per bottle. You cannot afford to be without it.

ERSONS whose absence of mind makes one to doubt sometimes their presence of continuents of their presence of continuents of their presence of character is the habit of leaving behind them of character is the habit of leaving behind them of character is the habit of leaving behind them of character is the habit of leaving behind them of character is the habit of leaving behind them of character is the habit of leaving behind them of character is the habit of leaving behind them of character is the habit of leaving behind them of character is the habit of leaving behind them of the continuents of

Editor Steinmetz Intends to Send a Rival Holstein Cow to the White House. [Prom the Philadelphia Press.]
Among the stories which the late visit of "Mr.

Among the stories which the late visit of "Mr. Steinmetz," of Philadelphia, have set aftoat is a singular one which asserts that he exhibited great jealousy at the White House one day when the President reforred to Mrs. Cleveland's admiration for the Jersey helfer which was presented to her by Mr. George W. Childs. The helfer, which has been frolicking around the Oak View barn ever since Mr. Childs's farmer brought it down from Wootton, has become very much of a favorite in the family and the President, forgetting "Mr. Steinmetz's "love for Holsteins, unfortunately dragged it several times into the conversation.

"I'm sorry," said "Mr. Steinmetz," in his quick, nervous way, "that Mrs. Cleveland was induced to accept a Jersey helfer at all. Jerseys are not so good as they are supposed to be, and if she had asked questions about the stock she would nave found out other kinds were better. Now, if you had let me know she wante one I should have sent her a Holstein.

"But," a -id the President, "how does it happen that you always suggest such things for Mrs. Cleveland and never offer anything to me. I might take a Holstein myself if it were the right kind," and the President smiled encourasingly.

"Mr. Steinmetz" inquired what kind the President wanted, and after the President had explained that it was not to be a helfer "Mr. Steinmetz" agreed to send it. The delay in sending is accounted for by the probability that "Editor Steinmetz" wants to send a particularity good one and displace at one swoop both the Jersey helfer and Mr. Childs from their standing in the family. steinmetz," of Philadelphia, have set affoat is a

Did Sailors Drink the Rum in Which Nelson's Body was Pickled.

(From London Society.) Mr. William Clark Russell is an authority on al Mr. William Clark Russell is an authority on all matters concerning those who go down to the sea in ships and who do business in the great waters. Perhaps, then, he can set me right with regard to a legend which has been confided to me by an ocean rover of great age and veracity. It is to the effect that the remains of Admiral Netson, K. C. B., were placed for preservation in a cask of rum and that on the arrival of the vessel in port the cask was opened. The remains of the great naval heavy were intact, but the rum was gone. The tars had tapped the cask and imbibed the spirit.

[From an Et Paso (Tex.) Letter.]
A case of peculiar interest to medical men was leveloped here to-day. Last evening a Mexican named Rico stabbed another Mexican named Parada. The wounded man did not at once givelens of being fatally injured. He stood up and even waiked with a little assistance. City Physician J. A. McKinney was called and Parada's wound was examined. It was found to be a cut about half

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hast MASQUERADING THERMOMETERS.

MASQUERADING THERMOMETERS.

An ear of corn, on which is set the thermometer, ribbons at both ends.

An ear of corn, on which is set the thermometer, ribbons at both ends.

Masquerading Thermometer in our company you will get your money back in your old age when you need it. You will have a good income when you are aged.

Masquerading Thermometer in our company you will get your money back in your old age when you need it. You will have a good income when you are aged.

Masquerading Thermometer in our company you will get your money back in your old age when you need it. You will have a good income when you are aged.

Masquerading Thermometer in our company you will get your money back in your old age when you need it. You will have a good income when you are aged.

Masquerading Thermometer in our company you will get your money back in your old age when you need it. You will have a good income when you are aged.

Masquerading (reading)—''An attempt was made yestenday alternoon sto cowhide the editor of this paner, but happily it was unancecaful.'

Proprietors of New York's big hotels are talking of organizing a movement in the interest of the city and it is likely that Demonstrated by quack and chariatans, those suffering tends of the first paner, but happily it was unancecaful.'

Muscular Female—Because it's going to (whack) now, and don't (whack) now, and don't (whack) of the state of posterior of the same of the case of the city and it is likely that Demonstrated by quacks and chariatans, those suffering tends of the case of the country of the paner, but happily it was unancecaful.'

Muscular Female—Because it's going to (whack) now, and don't (whack) now, and don't (whack) of the case of the city and it is likely that Demonstrated in the paner, but happily it was unancecaful.'

Moscular Female—Because it's going to what happily it was unancecaful.'

Muscular Female—Because it's going to what happily it was unancecaful.'

In the sister of your paner, but happily it was unancecaful grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this torrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, successing, snuffling and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the mo oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATABRILAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER: price, $1. POTTER DRUG & CHEMICAL CO., BOSTON.

FREE! FREE FROM PAIN! In one minute the Cuticura antipain Pinater relieves Rheumatic, Static, Sudden, Sharp and Nervous Pains, Strains and Weakness. The first and only pain-ailling Plaster. A perfect, new, original, instantaneous, infallible and eaf- Autidate to Pain, Infammation and Weakness. At all druggiests, 25 cents, five for $1.00, or, pestage free, of POTTER DRUG AND CREMICAL CO., Boshon.

Pen-Picture of the Prince of Socialists and Moss Dangerous Man in England.

[Puris Correspondence Chicago Fribuna.]

Mr. Hyndman, who is now the chief leader of the Socialists in England, is as well known here as in London. He is a very cautious man, and, while he is probably more than any one else directing the present agitation, he is careful to keep himself out of he clutches of the law. You will probably never hear of him being locked up, no matter how ill his followers may fare. Mr. Hyndman is not an inguorant, rude man. He is rich and highly educat d, and is accomplished in social graces. He is now, I suppose, ab on forty-five years old. His father left hum a figure of several hundred thousand dollars, and by arrewd boasness ventures he has increased his wealth until now he must be almost a millionaire. He was gradua ed there with high non-ris. Alter a short stay in London and Paris, where he was well in the social swim, as wend out to Australia. There he rise to emisence

AMUSEMENTS.

METROPOLITAN OPERA-HOUSE, JOSEPH HOFMANN.

SATURDAY EVENING, Doc. 3, at 8.15, with Grand Orchestre of 100 Musicians under the direct of Mr. ADOLPH NEUENDORFF.
Prices, 82.00, 81.00, 81 and 90. Boxes, 815.
Seats on sais at Box Umes, Metropolitan Opera-House, Webber Grand Plano Used.

HARRIGAN'S PARK THEATRE. Instantaneous and Stupendous Success of MR. EDWARD HARRIGAN DAVE BILAHAM and his Popular Greb Wednesday Matines Saturday.

MADISON SQUARE THEATRE.

Mr. A. M. PALMER
EVENINGS AT 8.30. SATURDAY MATINEE AT 2.

Seats now on sale.

STAR THEATRE. STAR THEATRE.

Lesseen and Managers.... Abbey, Schoeffel & Grac.

MR. HENRY IRVING

MISS RLIGHT TERRY

And the Lyconin Company

Lest Three Nights.

FAUST

MEPHISTOPHELES... MR. HENRY IRVING

MARGARET... MISS ELLEN TERRY

UNION SQUARE THEATRE J. M. HILL, Manager

TESTIN VIESE.

ROBSON AND CRANE,
under the management of J. M. Hill and Joseph Brooks,
in the great American comedy.
THE HENRIETTA.
by Bronson Howard.
Evenings at 8.15. Saturday Matthes at 2. Carriages,
10.45. Seats secured two weeks in advance,

H. R. JACOBS'S 3D AVE. THEATRE. Corner 31st st. and 3d ave.

RESERVED SEATS, A TREMENDOUS SUCCESS.

AUSTRALIAN
NOVELTY CO.

Secure Seats in Advance, BEWARE OF SPEULLATORS DEC. 5—PETE B. BAKER in CHRIS AND LENA. 50c. CADEMY OF MUSIC. Three More Nights. LAST MATINEE DARK SECRET.

25c., 50c. • 75c., $1. Next Week-ARABIAN NIGHTS. A CADEMY OF MUSIC SPECIAL. BEGINNING MONDAY, DEC.

Seats now on sale. DOCKSTADER'S MINSTERIA B'way and 20th st. Nightly, 8.30; Sat. Mat., 2.30.

"Air charged with fun. N. Y. Sun.

"Il-Ack FAUST.

"ATANTIAC II J. MAN FARMY ARD.

THANK SQUING AT WASHINGTON MARKET.

"TWILIGHT GAMBOLS." NEW FIRST PART.

Casino's Most Beautiful Comic Open OF THE Jasino's Most Beautiful Comic Opera Production, the MARQUIS RECEIVED WITH ROARS OF LAUGHTER. Great Cast. Chorus of 50. Admission, 50c. Monday, Dec. 5, the Sparkling Comic Opera Madelou

POEN MUSEE, 23D ST., BET. 5TH & 6TH AVES.
GEN. CUSTER'S LAST BATTLE.
GIRON'S GREAT PAINTING. "DEUX SCEURS."
Concerts daily from 2 to 5 and 8 to 11.
Admission to all, 50c.; children 25c.
AJEEB—The Mystifying Chess Automaton.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE, Reserved seats Orchestra Circle and Balcony, 80a. Next Sunday: PROF, CROMWELL'S lecture, 70 WONDERS.

WALLACK'S.
Evenings at 8.15, Matineo Saturday at 2.15,
Characters by Messa, Camond Tearle, Harry Edwards,
J. W. Pigott, Mme. Ponisi, Alies Notta Guion and Miss

Rose Coghlau.

DJOU OPERA-HOUSE—SECOND MONTH.
RICE'S
BURLESQUE
COMPANY.
65 ARTISTS.
Eve's at 8 (sharp). Mat's Wed & Satat2

LYCEUM THEATRE.

Bogins at 8.15.

The New Comedy.

MATINER
SATURDAY.

THE WIFE. MAKART'S FIVE SENSES,
Now on exhibition at No. 16 East 14th st., first floor, from 10 A. M. to 10 P. M. Sunday from 1 P. M.
to 10 P. M.

ADMISSION, 25 CENTS.

NIBLO'S.

Reserved Seats Orohestra Circle and Balcony, 50c SHE.

Matiness Wednesday and Saturday at 2. Poole's Theatre, 8th st. and 4th ave.

Dec. 5, THE STRANGLERS OF PARIS. TONY PASTOR'S THEATRE

TONY PASTOR'S LATEST, BEST COMPANY. 24 Stars-All the Best.

5TH AVE. THEATRE.

THE MCCAULL OPERACOMPANY.
EVENING ATS. MATINEE SATURDAY AT2. 14 TH STREET THEATRE, Cor. 6th ave.

Matinese Wednesday and Saturday.

DENMAN THOMPSON.

B THE OLD ROMESTRAD.

Gallery, 25c. Reserved, 35c., 50c., 76c., $1, $1.59.

A BMORY HALL VAUDEVILLE THEATRE, 188
And 160 Hester st. The fined variety company is America. Engagement extra-ordinary. Hughes as Clark, Frankie De Ferrest and Southern Serenaders under management of Billy Speed.

sentiment; but the truth is the truth, and

"Bravo!" replied the other; "that is something like common sense, and common sense is what I always like. Now, let us face this matter properly. We are both old enough not to behave like children. You are desirous of marrying Ella Dorbigny—I seek to be the wife of Harford Preston. That they are struck with one another is certain. Openly to attack them would be openly to fail. Let them become engaged, and I undertake to separate them by the exercise of jealousy. Then you do your best with the young lady, and I shall endeavor my best to carry off Harford Preston!"

"So be it."

"Now, what are those two talking about?"
said the first of the dowagers whose conversation opened this tale, and who were watching Dona Frentes and Lord Maskerleigh.
"No good," said the other. "He is the most abandoned nobleman belonging to the English peerage, and she may at any moment be turned out of society if the suspicious prevalent against her are verified."
"But what are they doing together?"
"Plotting—depend upon it," said the other with a wise nod.
[Continued Friday Economy.]

He (with a look of horror and surprise)-

Of what?
She—Of undressed kid.
He (reflectively, to friend on right)—And yet we have an Anthony Comstock!

ould be interesting is not made clear.

nobody has ever troubled themselves about her. It is thoroughly well known That, almost immediately after the birth of her child, she died abroad; and that is all that is known."

Who was sho ?" "Not an Englishwoman, you may be sure; or we should certainly know more about her at home than we do. As it is, we know nothing."

What country woman was she?" "She was the only daughter, it is said, of an English officer, who married, here, in Gibraltar, a Spanish lady. She was, there-fore, hair Spanish: and her daughter Ella is, therefore, one-quarter Spanish."

'Oh, you can see that in her face. That

THOROUGH FAITH.

PART L.—THE INTRODUCTION.

HE is an only daughter, and her mother died when sake was very young."

"Indeed! I never heard anything much about her."

"Nevertheless," said the second of these speakers, "Ella is unquestionably exquisitely about her."

"Well, it is said that the General is not at all desirous that any questions should be asked about Ella"s mother; and, in fact, nobody has

"The conversation reported in these sentences was held by a couple of those sharp-mother; and, in fact, nobody has

"The Chamber of the garrison and there were heard anything much all desirous that any questions should be asked about Ella"s mother; and, in fact, nobody has

"The Chamber of the garrison and there were descended from a line of our fairer English beauties."

"For my part, I do really prefer our home-made beauties for the wear and tear of married life. Such women as Ella Dorbigny are no doubt, exquisite, admirable and all that kind of thing; but, for every-day domestic, I much prefer a quiet, homely little, ordinary English woman."

"Nevertheless," said the second of these speakers, "Ella is unquestionably exquisitely beautiful: and, at the present moment, she is the absolute belle and queen of the ball."

"Oh, there can be no doubt about that, thus! here comes Lady Alice, and she hates scandal."

"Oh, there can be no doubt about that, thus! here comes Lady Alice, and she hates scandal."

The conversation reported in these sentences was held by a couple of those sharp-indeed the present to ineciosed address.

Mrs. A. B. Burett.

Iso Spring st., 2190 Spring st., 2190

is the absolute belle and queen of the ball."

"Oh, there can be no doubt about that, Hush! here comes Lady Alice, and she hates scandal."

The conversation reported in these sentences was held by a couple of those sharplooking old ladies who, in society, go to every ball to which they are invited; who, of course, never dance; who, now and again, look after and chaperone young ladies put under their charge; and whose great delight it is to scandalize everybody they see, and leave not one of their acquaintances with a rag of reputation left by the time the last "gallop" is in progress.

However, the ball at which the conversation set out was held differed from most entertainments of its kind from the fact that it was taking place at Gibraltar—that last stronghold held by the English in the south of Europe, and of which the great mass of our countrymen—even including literary men and artists—know about as much as they do of Kamtchatka.

There, however, beneath that impregnable rock, which has been ours since the brave time of Sir Cloudesley Shovel, you may find very pleasant English society—if you are properly introduced—dashed with a certain Spanish element which in a very great degree tends to give it an exceptional and added charm.

During the winter season in Gibraltar, for

"But," said he, "it pleases the poor child, and if society does not like her ways, society must learn to bear with them. She is a good girl, and she means no harm, and that is the principal thing to look after."

Nevertheless, it must be confessed that this extreme freedom she enjoyed was liable to cause her behavior now and again to be looked on with suspicion.

For instance, she would go out utterly unattended in London, and quite lauch at the attended in London, and quite laugh at the idea of there being anything wrong in so doing.

Such was Miss Ella Dorbigny on the night of the ball given by the garrison officers at Gibraltar to the officers of Her Majesty's ships then anchored in Gibraltar harbor.

On the night of the ball she was positively resolved but, of course, very improperly resplendent, but, of course, very improperly dressed from the ordinary point of view taken by mothers in society with young daughters to look after. She wore a fancifully made dress of Indian fabric, in which a great quantity of gold thread shone with exquisite

It was a tissue that had been sent from India for one of the international exhibitions years before, and Ella, seeing it, had insisted with her ordinary yet charming wilfulness, she had finally had this wonderful fabric made up into a ball dress previously to leaving England on the yachting expedition which had brought her as far as Gibralta.

bat alle seens.

The and his daughter had entered the room, attended by Mrs. Maylie, the chaperone, a good tempered, pleasant woman, as unsuspicious as a child; but Ella had soon got away from this good lady, and, leaning on her father's arm, moved about royally from room to room, dazzling herself by very reasen of the radiant success she was making by her presence at the assembly.

Suddenly the General started,

"Harford, is that you."

He was addressing a very beginning to nothing very the fair man, still very like the chaperone, a lady no longer young, and whose head was dressed, in the Spanish fashion, with a mantilla.

Several persons noticed this very remarkable seens.

On the other hand, Mrs. Maylie was passing near the General and his daughter when the first of the rediant success she was making by her presence at the assembly.

He was addressing a very beginning on the arm of the rediant success she was making place.

The and his daughter had entered the room, attended by Mrs. Maylie, the chaperone, a lady no longer young, and whose head was dressed, in the Spanish fashion, with a mantilla.

Several persons noticed this very remarkable seens.

On the other hand, Mrs. Maylie was passing or the first man, still very lateration in question.

In this act, if really he contemplated such an outrage, he was prevented by a lady no longer young, and whose head was dressed, in the Spanish fashion, with a mantilla.

Several persons noticed this very remarkable seens.

On the other hand, Mrs. Maylie was passing or the first man, still very lateration in question.

In this act, if really he contemplated such an outrage, he was prevented by a lady no longer young, and whose head was dressed, in the Spanish fashion, with a mantilla.

Several persons noticed this very remarkable seens.

On the other hand, Mrs. Maylie was passing or the first man, still very lateration in question.

In this act, if really he contemplated such an outrage, he was prevented by a lady no longer young, and whose head was dressed, in the Spa

"Harford, is that you?"
He was addressing a very handsome, tall, fair man, still very young, who was distinguished from almost everybody in the room pedition which had brought her as far as Gibraltar.

The reader will soon see why such special mention is made of this dress.

There could be do doubt that Ella was the reigning beauty. Her dark hair and olive complexion were admirably enhanced in their beauty by the splendor of her magnificent, if outlandish ball dress.

Gen. Dorbigny was indeed proud of his daughter as he saw the effect she created in the ball room.

The General was rather a pleasant than a saw Mr. Harford Preston introduced to Gen. Dorbigny's only daughter.

"New, Albert—Albert," said Mrs. Maylie,
"New, Albert—Albert," said Mrs. Maylie,
"I do beg you will not be so ridiculous. You are but a poor military man, with not £500 a pour thought of meeting you here?"

The two gentlemen shook hands.

"Harford, let me present you to my daughter. Ella, I present to you Mr. Harford Preston, whose father was a schoolfellow of mine. Mr. Preston, this is my only daughter, and only child. Ella."

He bowed unusually low for an Englishman. Ella took this act of profound admiration—for it could be nothing else—with extreme calmness; for your reigning beauties accept adoration as their just and perfect right.

"Now," said Mrs. Maylie, in a very de-cided voice—"now, you are too wise ever to commit the absurdity of supposing that the old love is to be renewed. I have no doubt that Gen. Dorbigny will desire to make up a match between his daughter and Harford Preston, and it will be a very desirable match from every point of view. They are equally rich, young and move in the same circle of society. Pray pardon my want of sometimes the sooner it is spoken the better for all parties."

"You are quite right," sighed the poor Captain.

Meanwhile, a very different conversation was going on in another part of the room-whither the lady in the Spanish mantilla had drawn the gentleman wearing the Spanish order of Isabel and Ferdinand.

On the other hand, Mrs. Maylie was passing near the General and his daughter when the introduction was taking place. She was feaning on the arm of Capt. Albert Gillham, he brother, who was twenty years younger than he self, and who was stationed at Gibraitar with his regiment.

This officer also turned and started as he saw Mr. Harford Preston introduced to Gen. Dorbogny's only daughter.

On the other hand, Mrs. Maylie was passing near the General and Ferdimand.

"Lord Maskerleigh," she said, "are you not old enough to know better than to show your hand at eards?"

"Dona Fuentes," he replied, "Ithank you heartily. The absurd eclaricisement from which you have saved me would have been preposterous."

"Bravo!" replied the other; "that is something like common sense.

[Continued Friday Evening.]

"Do I have any absent-minded men among

What Some People Forget When They Leave

ERSONS whose ab

There must have been at one time and another a

Twisting the Language.

No single man in the history of the world over discov only one is specially designed to help man physically. what Thomas A. Edison did when he discovered Poly-form. He brought to light the means of banishing all neuralgic, rheumatic or sciatic pains; of checking the first approach of muscular colds, of preventing nervous headache or any nerve trouble; and of making men and women happier and longer lived. The accounts of the wonderful effects of Edison's Polyform would fill an entire